CAN YOU DIG IT?

Above, Sarah Campbell of Williamstown cleans off her car after a winter wallop dumped up to eight inches of snow on Grant County earlier this week. Top right, Brennen Dills used his time off from school to earn money cleaning driveways and parking lots.

The snow started falling in the early morning hours of Feb. 16 and kept coming down until late afternoon. Grant County received up to eight inches of snow, causing schools to be cancelled, as well as closings of the Grant County Courthouse and Judicial Center. A level II snow emergency was declared. Several businesses also were unable to open due to the weather. While many roads remained snow-covered until Tuesday, there were few accidents reported during the height of the winter storm.

Grant, Williamstown adopt school calendars

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

With this year's calendar being adjusted with each passing snow day, the calendar for the 2015-16 school year has already been set.

Grant County and Williamstown Independent school districts last week approved next year's school calendars.

While both districts start the same week, Grant County, at least on paper, will get out a week earlier.

However, the likely number of snow days next winter will have an impact on the true final day of classes for both districts.

2015 - 2016 CALENDARS:

- GRANT COUNTY - First day for sixth graders and freshmen - Wednesday, Aug. 12
First day for all other students (except sixth graders and freshmen) - Thursday, Aug. 13
All students - Friday, Aug. 14
- WILLIAMSTOWN - Thursday, Aug. 13
Early release days include: Sept. 23, Oct. 21, Jan. 27 and March 9.

With no missed days, the last day for Grant County will be May 12, 2016, and Williamstown students will start summer May 20, 2016.

Once again, Grant County Schools will have a calendar with a staggered start for students.

The first day for sixth graders and freshmen will be Wednesday, Aug. 12, while students in all other grades will begin the new year on Aug. 13.

However, sixth and ninth graders will not attend class Aug. 13.

All students will attend daily beginning Aug. 14.

The goal of the schedule is to allow students who will be attending new buildings the opportunity to become acclimated to their surroundings, schedules and expectations before being joined by the older students.

5-year-old trapped, others ejected in wreck

By Bryan Marshall

A 5-year-old passenger was trapped under a 2002 Mercury Mountaineer SUV after being ejected when the vehicle rolled multiple times on Interstate 75 in Grant County.

The Dry Ridge Fire Department was successfully able to raise the vehicle to retrieve the child, who suffered multiple fractures in both legs.

Kentucky State Police dispatch received the call about the single-vehicle crash near the northbound 162 mile marker around 3:30 p.m. Feb. 12.

The Dry Ridge Fire Department and deputies from the Grant County Sheriff's Office were dispatched to the scene.

A Dry Ridge firefighter and a Grant County Sheriff's Office deputy assess the damage after a 2002 Mercury Mountaineer SUV rolled several times on I-75 in Grant County. A 5-year-old was trapped under the vehicle while two others also were ejected during the accident. Photo provided.

SUV at the time of the accident, and 19-year-old passenger, James Lynn of Verona were ejected as the vehicle rolled. Chandler was transported to University Hospital in Cincinnati by Rural Metro Ambulance with non-life threatening injuries. Lynn and a 16-year-old juvenile passenger were transported to St. Elizabeth-Florence by the Dry Ridge Fire Department.

The 5-year-old juvenile was taken to Children's Hospital in Cincinnati by the Dry Ridge Fire Department.

The initial investigation reveals that aggressive driving appeared to play a factor in the cause of the collision. A witness provided deputies with a dash-cam video of the collision, which helped determine the cause.

"The video shows careless lane changes before the vehicle nearly rear-ended a tractor-trailer," according to a sheriff's office report. "The vehicle veers to the right, where it lost control. The vehicle proceeds off the roadway, traveling up an embankment, causing it to roll multiple times."

Deputies do not believe that any of the passengers were wearing seat belts.

"They were lucky it wasn't a fatality accident," said Sheriff Chuck Dills. "It could have been a lot worse."

RELAY FOR LIFE EVENTS:

The Grant County Relay For Life season is getting underway and it's not too early to think about forming a team for the 2015 event.

The relay for life is an annual fundraising event for the American Cancer Society. Teams of eight to 15 members from various businesses, organizations and families raise money and agree to walk and participate in the night of fun, fellowship and remembrance of those battling cancer and those lost to cancer.

This year's Relay For Life is planned for Friday, May 15 at Grant County Park. It will kick off with a survivor dinner for all local cancer survivors at 6 p.m. followed by opening ceremonies at 7 p.m.

For the 2015 Relay For Life, the event is changing from a 12-hour event to a six-hour event. There will be activities, games and contests from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. on May 16.

Upcoming relay activities include:

- A team captain meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 23 at Forcht Bank (main office) in Williamstown. Anyone interested in the event or forming a team should attend. Team fees of $100 are due by March 1. After that date, the team fee is $125.
- Scrapbook Day – 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

March 7 at the Grant County Extension Office. Cost is $40 for breakfast, lunch, dinner and drink. Snacks and drinks will be available for purchase. Deadline to register is Feb. 28. All checks should be made payable to the American Cancer Society and mailed to Diana Morgan, 140 Hunters Trail, Dry Ridge, Ky. 41035.

• Cooking For A Cure – Friday, March 13, Grant County Extension Office, Baton Rouge Road, Williamstown. The Grant County News and Grant County Extension Office team up to offer taste testing, cooking demonstrations, goody bags and prizes. Cost is $5 per person. Registration begins at 6 p.m. with program starting at 6:30 p.m. All proceeds go to the relay.

• 4-H Craft Show – 9 to 5 p.m. April 25 at Grant Co. Extension Office. For more information call 859-824-3355.

• Bark in the Park – April 25. Grant County Park. Call Diana Morgan at 859-393-0216 for more information.

Ongoing relay activities include:

- Williamstown United Methodist Church – candle sale (ongoing); May 2 – booth at Derby Day; Sept. 12 – car show. For more information, call Reynae at 859-823-0331.

Days off for all students include Sept. 7 (Labor Day), Oct. 8-9 (Professional development), Nov. 2-3 (Professional development and Election Day), Nov. 25-27 (Thanksgiving), Dec. 21-Jan. 4, 2016 (Christmas Break), Jan. 18, 2016 (Martin Luther King Jr. Day), Feb. 15, 2016 (Teacher Contract Day) and April 4-April 8, 2016 (Spring Break).

Makeup days that may be used include May 18 through June 17, however, if five or more days are missed due to inclement weather, some or all of spring break may also be considered.

For Williamstown Independent Schools, the opening day for students will be Aug. 13.

The district has several days off worked into the schedule throughout the school year starting with Labor Day on Sept. 7.

Fall break is set for Oct. 8-9 while classes will be out Nov. 2-3 for a professional development day and Election Day.

Thanksgiving break will be Nov. 25-27, and students will get two weeks off for Christmas break from Dec. 21- Jan. 1, 2016.

Williamstown will recognize Martin Luther King Jr. Day on Jan. 18, 2016 with no school.

Classes also will not be in session Feb. 15-16.

Williamstown's spring break will be April 4- April 8, 2016, which will coincide with Grant County's spring break.

The final day off will be May 17, three days before school is scheduled to be out for the summer on May 20, 2016.

In order, the makeup days would be May 23-25, Feb. 16, May 26-27, Feb. 15, May 31 and June 1-2.

The schedule also will have four early release days that will allow staff to have professional development training.

Those days will be Sept. 23, Oct. 21, Jan. 27 and March 9.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Charles Poore was born on March 30, 1863 in Stephenson, (Kenton County) Ky. His mother was Emily Cason, a slave belonging to Alfred Cason and his father was Jerry Poore, a white man who moved to Missouri with his wife shortly after Charles was born. Charlie used the last name of Cason until sometime before 1900, when he was using Poore as his last name. Charlie's granddaughter, Murdock Kennedy Rice, described him as being light skinned with blue eyes. Sometime about 1887, Charlie married Alice Williams, daughter of Horace Williams and Eliza Tone Williams. Alice was born on March 2, 1869 in Indianapolis, Ind. She was dark skinned and as a child, Murdock often wondered how her black grandmother had been allowed to marry a white man during that time. Later in life she learned that Charlie was considered Black. Charlie and Alice had five children, all born in Stephenson. They were: (1) Edward born Aug. 11, 1891, (2) Della May born May 15, 1892, (3) Emma G. born Feb. 20, 1893, (4) Myrtle born Feb. 7, 1896 and (5) Anna Eliza born May 11, 1897.

Charlie and Alice moved to Sherman between 1900 and 1910. By 1910, Charlie owned a farm in Sherman with a mortgage. According to a note found in the home of Murdock Kennedy Rice, written by her mother, Eliza Poore, their home burned on March 7, 1916. Charles rebuilt on the same land. By 1920, he owned the farm free of mortgage. The farm was located on Hogan Road in Sherman. He and Alice lived on the farm until their deaths. Charlie died on Oct. 31, 1933 and Alice died on April 18, 1935, both in their home in Sherman. Their farm was then sold with the proceeds divided between his four remaining children and grandson, Jesse Poore, son of Edward Poore.

Son, Edward, married Archie Chapman and had four children. Edward was a good-looking man who liked to live a little on the edge. On Nov. 1, 1924 a moonlight craps game was taking place in an orchard outside of Dry Ridge, in which six white men and six black men took part. A dispute arose between Commodore Hopperton, a white man, and Edward who left the game vowing revenge. Later he was heard making his way softly through the orchard, according to the official story. With a gun in his hand he stepped up to Hopperton and demanded the return of his money. When refused, he fired a bullet just below the white man's heart. All fled, save Hopperton and one remaining friend, who tried to assist the dying man to an automobile. Suddenly Hopperton slumped out of his friend's grasp, dead. Upon seeing that Hopperton was dead, Poore's friends urged him to leave because he would be hung if they stayed there. According to Edward's son, Charlie Poore, Edward went to Walton, dressed up like a woman and took the train to New York City where he remained the rest of his life. He never contacted his family and they only knew the story when one of Poore's friends told his wife much later in life. It is assumed that he died later in life in New York City.

Daughter, Della May married Robert Sleet of Walton. Sleet was related by marriage to Catherine Sechrest Robinson, a slave owned by Charles Sechrest who was left to his son George at the time of Charles' death in 1857. She is listed in the Appraisal of Estate for Charles Sechrest and valued at $400. Della and Robert had seven children and lived in Walton all their married life. Della died there on Oct. 20, 1955.

Daughter, Emma, worked for William and Eliza Williams in Grant County as a domestic before moving to Cincinnati. By 1918, Emma had moved to Cincinnati with her sister, Myrtle. Both sisters worked as seamstresses at a shirt factory in Cincinnati. Emma married Glen Yates on Dec. 26, 1918 in Cincinnati. They had one son, Glen Nazarene Yates born on Aug. 25, 1922 in Boone County. Glen Sr. died on Oct. 26, 1927 in Cincinnati. Son Glenn Nazarene married Mary Elizabeth Johnson and had two sons, Larry (who with Greg Johnson were the first black students to play basket-

Daughter Myrtle moved to Cincinnati with sister Emma. She married Clarence Milton Rice and moved to Manhattan, New York some time before 1930. Myrtle and Clarence had two children, Kenneth and Wanda. Myrtle died sometime before 1977 in New York City. There was always the thought that brother, Edward had run to New York because his sister, Myrtle, lived there.

Daughter Anna Eliza, lived in Crittenden and worked as a domestic for the Glen Price Family. Around 1925, Eliza married William Stanley Kennedy, son of Leslie and Mary Jane Zellers Kennedy of Walton. William and Eliza had three children; Aretta Murdock, William Jr., and Charles Kenneth. Eliza and Stanley divorced sometime between September 1931 and 1933.

Eliza had a child with Jasper Westover, son of John H. Westover, a white man, and Mandy Tolbert a colored woman from Williamstown. Jasper was born May 12, 1900 in Williamstown and died Dec. 8, 1984 in Michigan. The child was, Jerry Westover, who was born on Oct. 8, 1935 in Grant County. Eliza and Jerry lived four houses west of the Colored Church on Violet Road if coming from U.S. 25. That would place their house approximately where the I-75 overpass is now located. Eliza was one of the former members of the Crittenden Colored Christian Church who sued to keep the building from being sold. Her daughter, Murdock, then sued the State of Kentucky to have the church moved to the Grant County Park in Crittenden rather than be torn down as Violet Road was being widened and repositioned to ease traffic.

Most all of Charlie and Alice's children were light skinned and many times were listed as white in the census records.

The myth of Kentucky’s gas tax crisis

No doubt you’ve heard the wailing and seen the hand-ringing about Kentucky’s gas tax dropping due to the lower gas prices we are seeing. My home fiscal court voted 7-1 to pass a resolution asking the State legislature to ‘stabilize’ the road fund, though the resolution failed to indicate how it expected the legislature to accomplish this.

The resolution, no doubt provided by those with an interest in growing the Department of Transportation budget, avoided any discussion of the real facts about the gas tax.

In 2009, the legislature decided to tie the tax, in part, to the wholesale price of gasoline. Of course, when they did this they carefully crafted it so it would guarantee an increase from the 18.5 cents per gallon being levied at that time, to about 22 cents, the floor the tax cannot go below. The upside was the price of gas was on the rise, and with no upper limit, and only a restriction to increase no more than 10 percent a year, the tax began to skyrocket, reaching more than 32 cents in 2014. This ‘instability’ was just what the transportation folks wanted, as long as the price of gas was up, but once it began to fall, the formula just wasn’t good enough, and they began claiming some calamity will befall us all. After all, they never anticipated gas would drop this much and never imagined the tax would hit the floor of 22 cents. It hasn’t. It is still 26.4 cents today.

The formula for this tax is 6.4 cents plus 9 percent of the wholesale price of gas. Since there is a lag determining the average wholesale price of gas each quarter, we may still see a drop in April, but as prices have already began a climb, there is little doubt it won’t stay there long.

One question I have heard many times is what did they do with the huge increases in money they took in the last five years. It certainly wasn’t all spent on roads. They certainly didn’t address the problems on many, many state roads. One look at the re-designs in many towns throughout Kentucky and you’ll begin to see the type of nonsense they have found to spend it on.

The only bills on the table in the legislature so far are to increase the floor from 22 cents to 27 cents but, of course, there will not be a ceiling. The transportation department has indicated repeatedly they would like to see a return to 32 cents plus as soon as possible.

This is exactly what they mean when they talk of stabilizing the road fund. An increase from 18.5 to 32 cents in six years, or a 72 percent increase in the tax you pay per gallon!

We already pay a higher tax per gallon than almost every state around us. At a time when we need to be as aggressive as possible to attract new business investment, we do not need to number in amount of tax levied.

The transportation department has already used the threat of reduced county road funds to persuade many of those in County governments across the state to lobby for this increase. It’s time to return to a flat tax rate. The road fund does not need to be tied to a constantly fluctuating wholesale price. I challenge our governor candidates and Senator Damon Thayer to propose a 25 cents per gallon flat tax. It’s more than the current floor, less than the current rate, ends the instability just as many county fiscal courts have requested. It’s a win-win.

Your input can really make the difference here. Call your legislators and let them know where you stand. Just call the legislative hotline, 1-800-372-7181 and ask them to give your senator and your state representative your message.

DOWN AND DIRTY

Skunks are on the move

We just returned from Taylorsville and on the drive home Andy remarked, “Wow, we have passed four dead skunks!” We don’t see them on the farm as much as we used to because of the dogs although I have been getting whiffs of them for about a week now. The lightbulb moment: it is mating season for skunks and they are on the move!

A few years back there was a skunk sniffing about under some pines in the lower pasture and it was evident from its movements and from its awareness (or lack thereof) of its surroundings that this creature knew it had the advantage. Their eyesight is poor so sneaking up on him to get a photograph was possible but it made me realize that startling a skunk is probably not a good idea.

Skunks are mostly nocturnal, nomadic and solitary...except during their mating season. We don’t see them too often, except as road kill, but when we do it can be memorable. When it comes to the stripped skunks in our area their general behavior consists of sleeping in some sort of den during the day. We have had skunks at the farm take up residence in old fox dens, ground hog holes and in the barn. Skunks are typically active from dusk to dawn, which is a little odd because of their poor eyesight. They have a good sense of smell, however, and rummage around at night for a meal of small rodents, grubs and other meaty insects. A rotten stump with a host of living creatures working to expedite the process of decay is a treat if you are a skunk.

Males are polygamous so the females end up being the sole caregivers of their litters that average one to eight babies. Baby skunks, called kittens, are born in April and May with a gestation period that lasts about 63 days, so if you do the math most skunks are pretty busy right now.

Jeneen WICHE

Weekend Gardener

Skunks have amazing accuracy when it comes to fending off those that threaten them. They can hit their mark perfectly at six feet; and have generally good aim up to 20 feet. If you come across a skunk and she starts stamping her front feet, run. Just before they release their musk they give a warning stomp, rise up on their front legs, left up their rear and bull’s eye, you’ve been skunked. If you receive a direct hit it is not comparable to the general skunk smell. Rather the stench is a combination of burning rubber, sharp, fresh garlic and a little sulfur. The animal lives up to its Latin name, Mephitis mephitis, which translates as “bad odor, bad odor”.

Their stripes are quite distinctive, some almost non-existent while other look nearly all white. Males roam about (and get hit by cars at a much higher rate this time of the year) quite a bit during mating season but females usually stay within a half a mile of their den. Buck, our old red heeler, got a direct hit to the face, once. It sent him on a desperate attempt to rub it off; he effectively spread the oil all over the driveway and garage door stoop. We bathed him in Dawn, peroxide and baking soda multiple times before it was even bearable for us all! If you do get a hit the mixture is a quarter cup of baking soda, two tablespoons of Dawn dishwashing detergent and a pint of peroxide. Use it right away and it will work better than most other concoctions.

FAITH & VALUES

Pastor's Corner

How is your rock?

There's no greater joy, no greater privilege than knowing you're God's own possession because He chose you by sovereign election and paid the price for you through the sacrifice of His Son Jesus Christ!

Because of our union with Christ, we are a member of the priesthood of all believers. We have the honor of offering sacrifices of gratitude to God for the redemptive work of Christ. And we are to express your gratitude with your lips, your labor and your life.

There are Four Keys to living a normal victorious Christian life.... (1 Peter 2:4-10)

- Ongoing Fellowship with Jesus (2:4-5)
- Ongoing Trust in Jesus (2:6-8)
- Ongoing Identity with God (2:9)
- Ongoing Witness for God (2:10)

In a park on the island of Bermuda there's a rock hanging from a rope. Next to it is a large sign. The sign reads, Weather Station: Check the rock. If it's wet, it's raining...If it's moving, it's windy...If you can't see it, it's foggy. If the rock is gone, it's a hurricane.

Our Christian calling is further described as the calling to "display the virtues of him who called you." That is to say, by the grace of God we are called to live a Christ-like life and in so doing we will be reflecting and exhibiting the very virtues of God Himself.

Because of the pressures and distractions of this present world, it is vitally important that we reflect upon our Christian identity. May our Christian identity, as Peter defines it for us, be reinforced in our minds; and where we have lost sight of that identity, may we realign our mind and life with it.

Satan is continually striving to sever us from our true identity to more easily exploit us. We dare not allow ourselves to lose sight of our true identity as believers in the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the meantime, the function of the living stones is to "declare the praises" of Him who called us out of the darkness of sin into the light of life and glory. This is the "job description" of a living stone: a declarer of truth and love and light, both by our words and the life we live before others in the world.

INSIDE OUR SCHOOLS

WHO CAN BE A STAR STUDENT:

Any student can be recognized. All schools are encouraged to honor star students. Call 824-3343 for more information.

Grant County High School

Alex Hogan is the Grant County High School Student of the Week. He is a sophomore and is in Helen Southworth's class.

"I want to nominate Alex for the Grant County Star Student because Alex consistently takes ownership of his academic success, he is respectful, always attentive to detail, his character is beyond valuable, his work ethic is excellent, and he regularly shows pride in his achievements. I'm so proud of Alex and how he represents our school." Southworth said.

His favorite subjects in school mathematics with Tina Reynolds and Helen Southworth.

His favorite book is How To Kill A Mockingbird.

His favorite thing to do with is family is to go to Texas.

NOTEWORTHY:

Georgetown College Dean's List

students who made the Dean's List for Fall 2014 include:

- Adam S. Campbell of Crittenden
- Devanny Paige King of Williamstown
- Hannah Faith Kinsey of Crittenden

To qualify, a student must have completed the semester with at least 12 credit hours and a 3.7 GPA.

GCHS STUDENTS ATTEND FCCLA REGIONALS - Eight students from Grant County High School traveled to Williamstown Baptist Church to compete in the Region 7 FCCLA STAR Events. The Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), formerly FHA, currently have 65 members in the Grant County High School Chapter. The eight students who competed placed first in their divisions which included advocacy, illustrated talk, focus on children, career investigation and interpersonal communication. All students will be advancing to state competition at the end of March.

GCHS TO HOLD PARENT MEETING

Grant County High School counselors would like to invite parents of students currently in grades eighth through 11th to attend a meeting from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 26 regarding scheduling for the 2015-16 school year. From 5 to 6 p.m., teachers of electives (including technology center courses) will be available in their classrooms to answer questions about their specific programs. Beginning at 6 p.m., in the GCHS auditorium, counselors will review scheduling materials and explain the scheduling process.

In addition, current eighth graders and their parents/guardians will be participating in Operation Preparation on Thursday, March 12. Operation Preparation is a one-on-one, college/career readiness advising initiative targeting eighth and 10th grade students.

Operation Preparation will also serve as a time for incoming freshmen and their parents/guardians to review their schedule selections before turning in requests to the high school. Parents/guardians can sign up for an appointment time at the meeting on Feb. 26 or contact Cheryl Arnold at GCMS at 859-824-7161 on Feb. 27 through March 10. Appointments for March 12 will be available every 30 minutes from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Grant County Middle School.

Tenth grade students will participate in Operation Preparation Monday, March 9. Using student ILP information and assessment data, trained advisors will discuss with each sophomore his/her career aspirations, course selections for 2015-16 and whether or not that student is on target to meet his/her goals.

Grant County Schools seeking applications for Distinguished Alumni

The Grant County Schools Education Foundation desires to recognize outstanding alumni of Grant County Schools who have made contributions and/or achievements during their lifetime. The "Distinguished Alumni" will start in May 2015, recognizing a past Grant County School Alumni who has made exemplary achievements and/or contributions to society through their work or other notable activities.

Each year the award recipient will be recognized during the commencement exercise at Grant County High School and their picture/bio portrait will be displayed on the walls of the high school. The deadline for submitting nominations is March 13.

Nominations will be held and considered for three years. If your nominee is not selected within this period, a new nomination will need to be submitted.

The nominee:

- Must be a graduate of a Grant County School
- Must have made exemplary achievements and/or contributions to society through their work or other notable activities
- May be living or deceased

Applications may be obtained by contacting: Joann Brill at 859-486-0704 or Nancy Howe at 859-824-2859 or nancy.howe@grant.kyschools.us.

Three Braves wrestlers make it to state

By Tim Seevers
Sports Correspondent

In its fifth season, the Grant County High School wrestling program is still in its infancy, but it is making remarkable gains.

The KHSAA Region 5 wrestlers met at Woodford County on Feb. 14 and three GCHS wrestlers will move on to compete at the Kentucky State Tournament at the All Tech Center in the Kentucky Horse Park.

“It is the first time our program has had a freshman and sophomores qualify for the state tournament,” Coach Matt Shearer said. “This is big for our program. We’ve had seniors make it to the state but they do not get to return and share the experience and help the younger guys improve off of that experience. The goal is to make it to the state.”

Thomas Gripshover, Cody Roundtree and Zach Spohn made it to the state.

Gripshover, a freshman who wrestles in the 126-pound weight class, placed fourth in the regional tournament.

He went into the regional tournament with a 23-9 record and a three seed.

Gripshover will move on to the state tournament with an opportunity to not only compete for the championship but to gain valuable experience to build on for the next three years.

Roundtree, a sophomore who wrestles in the 182-pound weight class, upset the number two seed to place second in region 5.

Roundtree posted a 29-6 record heading into the regional tournament and was also a three seed.

Shearer could not help but heap a lot of praise on these two young men.

He said the opportunity ahead of them will help them understand the concept that hard work really does pay off.

“You have to be mentally as well as physically fit in the sport of wrestling,” Shearer said.

Spohn, a senior for the Braves, also qualified for the state tournament.

He wrestles in the 160-pound class and is wrestling for his first time this season. “He has brought a lot of leadership qualities to the program,” Shearer said. “He leads by example. He is a naturally athletic competitor. It is not common for a first year wrestler to make it to the state, but Spohn prevailed and placed fourth in the region 5 tournament.”

One other wrestler for the Braves will be an alternate at the state tournament. Quinton Rayburn, a 195-pound wrestler, finished fifth at the regional.

“Gripshover and Roundtree are following the footsteps of their older brothers,” Shearer said. “They both had an older brother that was a senior on the team last year that qualified for state. Their older brothers can be considered as the first pioneers into that experience forging a trail for their younger brothers to follow and expand. The team has been small, but their success has been big. We have only been a program for five years and have qualified eight wrestlers for the state tournament and having one place fourth in the KHSAA State Wrestling Tournament in the program’s third year. The Grant County School district should be proud of all of these young competitors, especially Thomas and Cody.”

Oldham County 52 Grant County 33

The Lady Braves traveled to Buckner for a regional game with Oldham County on Feb. 7.

The game was controlled by the Colonels throughout, although there were some good runs by the Lady Braves.

But again costly turnovers and poor rebounding took its toll and in the end the Lady Braves fell to the Lady Colonels.

Shelby Harmeyer led the Lady Braves with 10 points, followed by EJ Kearns with six points, Karlyn McCoy and Madisyn Ruebusch with four points each and two points each from Macy Wright, Jordan Allen and Destiny Chaidez.

Lady Braves 67 Frankfort 47

The Lady Braves returned back to action at home Feb. 13 to host the Lady Panthers of Frankfort High School on Grant County girls elementary basketball night.

In between games, Grant County’s all-time girls’ leading scorer Bradie Bowen was honored. Her 1,764 career points still stands, along with various other records she holds.

The Braves flew out of the gate, thanks in part to an 11-point first quarter by Shelby Harmeyer and led 17-14 at the end of one.

The second quarter was the highest scoring quarter of the game for the Braves, scoring 25 points.

Macy Wright led the charge with 10 points in the quarter, followed by Madisyn Ruebusch with nine points.

Frankfort center Jasmine Turpin kept the Lady Panthers in the game with 30 points as the Braves did not seem to have an answer on how to stop her.

The Lady Braves did however have an answer for the Panther's leading scorer Brianna Burbridge, holding her well under her 26.6 PPG average. That, coupled with foul trouble in the second half for Turpin, plus nine Lady Braves getting into the scoring column (four with double figures), the Lady Braves cruised to a 20-point victory.

Harmeyer led the Lady Braves with 12 points, followed by Tyrsten Cummins with 11, Wright and Destiny Chaidez with 10 points each, Madisyn Ruebusch with nine points, Shania Young with six, Tianna Thornberry with five and Karlyn McCoy and Abby West with two points each.

The team concludes the regular season on Feb. 20 at home on Senior Night against Owen County.

The Lady Braves will then play in the 32nd District Tournament at 6 p.m. Feb. 23 at Simon Kenton against the Pioneers.

The championship game for the district is set for 7 p.m. Feb. 26 at Simon Kenton.
